

IMMOHRTAL

Dance With The Delusional — the first IMMOHRTAL record

IMMOHRTAL is Dillon Mohr — a 28-year-old chief marketing officer and rapper from Erie, Pennsylvania, now in Pittsburgh. He spent years making other people sound bigger, sharper, and harder to ignore. Rap was always the thing underneath: the notebooks, the voice memos, the late-night lines.

Mac Miller is the reason he wanted to rap at all — Faces hit the house in 2014 and never left. That influence is personal, not a costume: permission to be honest, detailed, strange, funny, damaged, and still competitive.

Dance With The Delusional is built from two lives meeting in one room: the marketer who understands attention and the rapper who treats every verse like a sport. Both features on the record are King Kev — his best friend. No industry placements; the guy who was there.

DILLON MOHR • THE 814 SHOT

“I’m 28 and I probably shouldn’t be doing this. But if I don’t do it now, when am I ever gonna do it?”

THE RECORD • 11 TRACKS

- | | |
|----------------------------------|--|
| 01 No Way Out | 07 Headstone interlude |
| 02 Picking Up My Notepad | 08 Grade A Love |
| 03 814 Blood ft. King Kev | 09 On My Way ft. King Kev |
| 04 My Mothers Baby | 10 Waitlist |
| 05 Roll the Dice | 11 Dance with the Delusional ft. Ted Moon |
| 06 My Own Way | |

FOR FANS OF

Mac Miller • lyric-first hip-hop • records that are funny and damaged in the same bar

THE ANGLE

A CMO who markets everyone else, finally selling the one thing he can’t be objective about. The delusion is the point.